

On 07/09/2025 Teva discontinued distribution of the AirDuo® RespiClick® (fluticasone propionate and salmeterol) Inhalation Powder in the US. As of July 9, 2025, Teva will no longer be selling product to wholesalers, but inventory in the channel will be available to be purchased and used until inventory is exhausted for patients and HCPs. However, people who already have and are using AirDuo RespiClick inhalers can continue using them as prescribed until their expiration date.

Since AirDuo Respiclick inhalers will no longer be manufactured or distributed to wholesalers after 7/9/2025, patients and healthcare providers should consider appropriate therapeutic alternatives. Teva will continue to have an Authorized Generic version of AirDuo RespiClick available for use for HCPs and patients.
